

Join our international Team for a period of three to six months in the town of Königstein, close to Frankfurt am Main, Germany and support us as an

Intern (Full time) in our Press Department

Aid to the Church in Need (ACN International) helps Christians worldwide, wherever they are persecuted, oppressed or in pastoral need. Funded exclusively by private donations, ACN supports over 5,000 projects annually in more than 140 countries, with a total of around 80 million Euros. Our international Headquarters prepares news concerning the current situation of the Church worldwide and sends them for local communication to our 23 National Offices.

What your work will involve

- For the first days you will work in the Projects Department of ACN International, getting to know project processes and software we use
- An informed insight into the Catholic Church and our international project work. Meetings and interviews with project partners, collaboration on a range of different communications projects, and writing reports
- Writing and editing texts, including news items, press bulletins, reports and interviews
- Photo production and editing
- Compilation and evaluation of media reporting
- Processing a range of communications material and multimedia applications
- Compiling and collating information on events and initiatives
- Researching into topical issues relating to the persecuted Church

What we are looking for

- Current or completed bachelor's or master's degree in communication science
- Good journalistic skills
- Team spirit, flexibility, a structured, careful way of working, creativity and reliability
- Ability to work even under pressure and capacity to work in a team
- Knowledge of the Catholic Church and interest in the situation of Christians who suffer and are persecuted

- Proficiency (both written and oral) in one of the following language combinations: English and German, English and Spanish or German and Spanish; any further language is an advantage

What we can offer

- An internship that is not only productive but also meaningful, a mission where your day-to-day work actually helps suffering Christians and changes their lives, together with the opportunity to live your faith through your work.
- 100% integration in our team from day one
- Interesting and challenging duties within the world of communications, along with the opportunity to work independently, under your own responsibility
- A truly international atmosphere, and a flexible and attractive working environment
- ACN will provide an evaluation at the end of the internship in the Communications Department
- The participant will write a report and an analysis of his/her experience
- Accommodation and meals

Are you interested?

Then send us your application letter and form (including length of internship and date of possible beginning)! We will be very glad to hear from you.
